VICTORY THROUGH SPIRIT

Homecoming

Every year thousands of students look forward anxiously to one special night of the year, the highlight of the football season — Homecoming. Every hallway and classroom is decorated; posters are displayed everywhere. Pep club, band, cheerleaders, and drill team prepare for the colorful halftime ceremonies while the team trains for a winning game. Special committees plan the dance; all anxiously await the announcement of the queen. Spirits soar, and hopes are high.

Yet how often does a student stop to think about the real significance of homecoming or realize its original purpose? The word homecoming is self-explanatory. Alumni, now widespread, come "home" to become once more an active, cheering part of their Alma Mater, to view changes in the campus, and to meet old friends and reminisce about days gone by — days that can never be re-lived.

So the student should keep in mind that although the homecoming of today means a big football game, fun, and festivities, it will become even more significant as years go by.

VARSDITY SELECTS CANDIDATES; STUDENT BODY TO CHOOSE QUEEN

The Varsity football squad has named Sue Bollig, Yolanda Hiser, and Dorothy Saldina as their Homecoming Queen candidates. Homecoming Queen, the dream of every Senior girl, will become a reality for one of these girls Friday night. Sue, Yolanda, and Dorothy, all of whom have attended Gorman for four years, have enthusiastically participated in school activities showing the ability and spirit required for the responsibility of this honor.

Sue Bollig began her high school career when elected Junior Varsity Cheerleader in 1961, and Varsity Cheerleader in 1962. She went on to become Junior Prom Queen attendant in 1963 and is topping off her years at Gorman with Homecoming Queen candidacy. Sue's reaction when first told of her nomination was "I'm thrilled and excited."

The highlights of Yolanda Hiser's Gorman life included Freshman Class Secretary, Precisionaire, and Student Council Secretary. Yolanda is an honor roll student and has been active in the Sodality. When told of her nomination, Yolanda laugh-

Homecoming week has finally arrived at Gorman High School and it promises to offer six of the most exciting days of the school year.

Here then, is a complete schedule of the Homecoming activities for the 1963 year:

Monday, Nov. 4 — Lance Homecoming Edition, Poster Contest Judging, freshman skit.

Tuesday, Nov. 5 — Pep Club picket, selling of the Crest by the Juniors.

Wednesday, Nov. 6 — Homecoming queen election by the student body, Junior skit.

Thursday, Nov. 7 — Letterman's Car Smash in the parking lot, Senior Skit.

Friday, Nov. 8 — Blue and Orange Day, Pep Rally in the gym.

Preceding the game, Gorman will hold its annual car rally. This caravan of automobiles will begin at the School parking

The Students Speak

Dear Editor,

Why it is that the girls have an advisor and counselor and the boys do not? Aren't the boys equally important?

A Boy

Dear Boy,

Naturally the boys are as important as the girls! The boys not only have one but two counselors and advisors in the persons of Fathers Shiels and Teed. Since Sister Irmalyn has been relieved of her classroom duties, she is able to see the girls throughout the entire day. The boys can consult their advisors during the first period, before, and after school. Until the teaching loads of Father Shiels and Father Teed can be lessened, counseling throughout the day must be handled by way of appointments only.

— Editor

Dear Joyce,

Now that the football season is over, we will be leaving spacious Cashman field and moving into our small gym. If this year is the same as last year, many people who are not related to the players will attend the sports functions. They make it necessary to turn away the students who really want to attend the games. Is there any way to correct this situation without offending anyone?

— Out in the Cold

Dear Out,

It might be a good idea to reserve a special section of bleachers for the students. An even better idea would be to have the students come earlier, just in time to watch the Junior Varsity team play. Remember, they too are Gorman Gaels.

AYERS ON HOMECOMING

By HEAD COACH JERRY AYERS

With Homecoming so near and because of its importance to students past and present, it seems a good idea to consider the special meaning of what we have done to prepare for this year's welcoming of "old grads."

For a long time now, graduates of Bishop Gorman High School have been proud to boast of the academic quality of their Alma Mater. Except for basketball, however, they have had little about which to be truly proud in athletics. This is one of the reasons why the current players and coaches at Gorman have resolved to make a significant contribution to school tradition in football.

Since Homecoming takes place during football season, we are honored to have our game with Bishop Manogue, considered the highlight of the Homecoming activities. We shall be aware that all "alums" will be wondering if it is really that Gorman has "come alive" in all sports and is dedicated to accomplishing that which has been considered impossible before.

Undoubtedly, Manogue will present a challenge which promises to become a yearly hurdle over which we must leap before we may be considered the Notre Dame of Nevada.

Playing in their last game for Gorman will be many seniors, all of whom have helped immeasurably toward this goal. It would certainly be a pleasure for them to look back and say, "We helped establish this tradition by defeating Manogue!"

Will you all please continue to support us as you have done so well before.

Sir Gorman And The Gold Giant

By GARY FOWLER

Once upon a time there was a gallant knight named, Sir Gorman. Time and time again he accepted and defeated those who challenged him in mortal combat. He was the favorite knight of King Ayers.

One day a knight from the rival castle in the north came to the court of King Ayers. He was a huge Gold Giant and he was clothed in bright green. Instead of a lance he carried a pick. He came into King Ayer's court at the height of the great feast week when all the knights of the realm were at the court.

He strode into the castle and challenged Sir Gorman to a duel to be carried out that night. Sir Gorman accepted the Gold Giant's challenge and prepared to meet him when the moon rose to the eighth position in the sky.

The tournament began and immediately the Gold Giant scored a thrust as he knocked Sir Gorman off his steed. But Sir Gorman was not the kind of knight who gave up easily. For four charges they fought and still no one had scored the fatal thrust. Then on the final thrust, Sir Gorman rode straight at Sound Off!

By JOYCE MAURIELLO

Why can't we be treated as adults? This question has been asked time and time again by teenagers of all generations. It is the endeavor of "Sound Off" to give you my opinion on this subject from both points of view.

"Teenagers, let us unite and form an equal rights, anti-adult movement. After all, we are old enough to do what our elders do. The society of today is moving at a fast pace. The age limits for voting, purchasing of alcoholic beverages, and the like should be lowered to conform with our off-beat generation and the ever-changing world. We're only young once, so why can't we indulge while we're still in our prime. After all, just because our parents are older, year-wise, doesn't mean that we are incapable of handling ourselves properly."

The above arguments sum up a few of the adolescent views towards premature adulthood. In breaking down this variety of thought, my first objection would be: Who is able to judge the right and wrong things we do? Just from the very fact that our parents have lived a number of years longer, we should set them up as judges. We who are being judged haven't lived through those experiences, which we now consider trite and innocent, but are really dangerous. Our parents, from the viewpoint of actual living experiences, are better prepared to set up our rules for behavior.

My second argument is: Are we ready to endure the consequences stemming from the assumption of adult responsibilities? We, as teenagers, have the tendency to "eat the meat but not the spinach." In other words, we want the pleasures

Alumni News

By Michaelyn Velardo

Since Homecoming is the welcoming home of graduates, we would like to mention a few ex-Gormanites who were connected closely with the celebrating of Homecomings in the past.

Home for a month departing for Italy is Rudy Faber. Rudy was voted All-State halfback in 1959.

Homecoming Queen in 1961, Cecilia Maxwell, is employed at the Riviera Hotel, after attending Arizona State University for one year.

David Potter, most valuable football player in 1960, is a senior at Santa Clara University where he is majoring in Economics.

Judy Falkenstein from the class of '61, was nominated for Homecoming Queen at the University of Nevada.

A broken arm kept Richard Kline from playing second string football at West Point. Richie was the recipient of the most valuable football player award in 1962.

Former Head Precisionaire and Homecoming Queen Attendant in 1961, Mary Licini is a sophomore at Santa Clara University where she is on the President's List because of her high scholastic average.

Skip Pike, co-captain in the '61 Homecoming game, is engaged to Vicki Paraja, and working at the Power Co.

Attending Stanford University and majoring in law, is 1962 Homecoming Queen and former Lance Editor Louisia McDonald.

Another co-captain for the Homecoming game in '61, Ron Henderson is stationed in the Panama Canal with the Paratroopers.

High school sweethearts Linda Layman and Dennis Gomes were wed on August 24. Linda was a Homecoming Queen Attendant in 1961.

Linda Falba, last year's head cheerleader, is pledged to Gamma Phi Beta social sorority at San Jose State College.

Happily married are 1958 Homecoming Queen Mary Lou Ratay, and co-captain of that season Ron Topper.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Gorman Seniors, who plan to attend college, will begin their tests required for admission — the ACT and the SAT — on November 9 and December 7 respectively.

The Seniors of Gorman can finally boast of a paved parking lot. Mr. Joseph Blasco, a local contractor, paved the lot as a favor to the school.

The band members have elected officers for the coming year. They are: President, David Kreiger; Vice-President, John Haggerty; and Secretary, Aleta Schnehagen.

After much deliberation, the Junior Class has finally selected the stone for their class rings. A deep blue faceted stone with the same features as the class of '64's rings was their final decision.

These are just a few of the "off beat" characters who attended the "Spooker's Stomp" on October 26. Sponsored by the Archive, under the editorship of John Haggerty, the dance afforded, to those who came in costume, the opportunity to compete for prizes. Winners were Junior Nadine Mikulich, the best single costume, along with Freshmen Kate and Richard Small, the "cutest couple."

FAMED FOLKSINGERS ENTERTAIN FOR NSU SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

Peter, Paul and Mary, a trio of folksingers, appeared at a benefit for the Nevada Southern University Scholarship Fund on October 26. This program held in the gym, was attended by a capacity crowd, among them many Gormanites.

The first half of the evening the trio sang many of their famous songs such as: "Puff the Magic Dragon", "500 Miles", "Blowin in the Wind," "Don't Think Twice It's All Right", and they also did a child's folk-song to a Rock 'n Roll theme.

In the second half of the show they performed individually, then together. Paul did a number of vocal imitations, and told of some incidents in his childhood which proved to be quite humorous. Peter sang a few songs in which the audience joined in, and Mary gave her rendition of a serious ballad. They closed the show with "If I Had A Hammer", which they sang at the Washington Civil Rights March.

Peter, Paul and Mary have been visually described as "two bearded prophets of the folk idiom, in league with a bright young blonde and a half." And vocally as "An angel, and two cellos playing guitars."

enjoyed by our elders and parents, yet we don't want to assume the responsibilities for our actions. For example, Percy, the average, independent 17 year old, wants to be able to drink like his 24 year old brother, Reggie. But when Percy "gets busted" by the police, who does he run to for help and protection? That's right—mommy and daddy!

If we assume the responsibilities—and not just the pleasures—of adulthood early in life, we too will become the well-adjusted and well-informed "elder generation" of tomorrow.

RETREAT BOOSTS SPIRITUAL LIFE

October 25 marked the end of Gorman's tenth annual retreat. Through the guidance of Rev. Robert Sheehan and Rev. Robert Schulztenburg, the students spiritual life was again given a shot in the arm.

As last year, the retreat was divided by classes. The Seniors and Juniors attended the first part of the week, while the underclassmen attended the last part of the week. This method is designed so the Retreat masters can best cover the problems of each particular level.

Father Sheehan came to Las Vegas from his parish in Kellogg, Minnesota. He also finds time to teach religion at St. Felix High School in Wabasha, Minnesota. He was ordained at St. Thomas Seminary after attending St. John's University. Along with being an experienced Retreat master and educator, Father has also served as an Air Force Chaplain in England and Germany.

Father Schulzetenberg studied philosophy and theology at St. Thomas Seminary in Denver. He also attended the graduate schools of Columbia, University of Minnesota, and Marquette. At present he is Assistant Superintendent of Schools and pastor of St. Patrick's Parish in St. Cloud, Minnesota.

The retreat proved a beneficial week of spiritual introspection for all those who took advantage of the opportunity.

OPTIMIST CLUB HONORS SENIOR

Father William Anson, C.S.V., has announced the selection of senior Carol Huber as the "most outstanding student" to represent Gorman at a dinner, sponsored by the Breakfast Optimists Club on November 9.

Along with the outstanding students from the other Las Vegas, Henderson, and Boulder City high schools, Carol will be honored by the National Vice-President of the Optimist Club. The presentation of trophies to these students, chosen for scholarship, participation in activities and personality, will serve to commence the Optimist International Youth Appreciation Week.

Lance Summarizes Background Activities of Manogue Miners

For the first time in the history of BGHS the Gorman Gaels and the Manogue Miners will clash on the gridiron this Friday. Since these are the only Catholic High Schools in the state, this game starts a new form of rivalry between the "sister schools."

In order to prepare Gorman for their meeting with Manogue, we are summarizing a few brief facts about the history of the school itself.

Similar of Gorman's Precisionaires, Manogue also has a drill team, the Gold Diggers, consisting of 32 members. With an enrollment of 465 students, nearly everyone participates in at least one of the various clubs within the school.

The students at BMHS are instructed by the Brothers of the Holy Rosary, and the Sisters of St. Dominic, with Monsignor Carmody as principal.

Manogue's school colors are green and gold.

Lettermen Smash Manogue Gridders

This year's Homecoming Week will feature something new in the Lettermen's Car Smash which will take place Thursday after school.

Club president, Rich Costello,

Fr. Robert Carey, C.S.V.

in an effort to promote more Homecoming spirit, felt that the addition of the "Smash" would be just the thing to help "fire up" the students for the game on Friday night.

Rich explained that the "Smash" would take place after school and would be started off with Fr. Teed taking the first swing. Students may purchase swings for 25 cents each.

The Lettermen's Club have obtained a car and painted the names of some of the Manogue players on it so that Gorman fans can help soften up our "rivals" in what should prove to be one of the most lively pregame "bashes" in Gorman's Homecoming history.

Fr. Robert Carey Relates Athletic Past

After leaving BGHS two years ago, Fr. Bob, as he is affectionately called, went on to teach at Griffin High School in Springfield, Illinois. Although he is no longer with us physically, excerpts from his letter reveals where his heart really lies.

"Homecoming 1963 should remind 'Old Grads' that days were not always so good. A few years back, football at Gorman was a rather one-sided affair. Since 1959, things have been looking up. Today, because of better equipment, self-sacrifice, and the fierce determination to win, the Gaels have not only piled up a fantastic amount of victories, but they have also won the admiration and respect of every school they have played.

"To produce the 1963 calm, cool, collected, good, clean, red-blooded, God-fearing, American boy on this year's Homecoming team took a lot of brains, drive, muscle, polish, and teamwork.

"We are all travelers along the same highway of life. There is no need to massacre each other in order to win a game which is a victory today then is lost in the records of a dusty yearbook. The student body acts as though they personally have to remove the scalps of each student from the opposing school. Throughout the game you feel the mistrust and hate that sometimes explodes with flying pop bottles and bare fists. This is not sportsmanship, but jungle warfare.

"If sports degenerate into a 'win or be killed' proposition, then we are back in the Circus Maximus of pagan Rome, where, as my former Latin students will recall, gladiators fought to their last dying gasp. This is not sport — it's butchery! A true Christian sportsman, a true Gorman Gael, is one who can see his team lose and then gracefully congratulate the opposing team on having done a superb job.

"And so in 1963, because of the progress made by the 'Old Grads,' your athletic Department offers a tremendous opportunity for any student who has a desire to build a sound mind in a sound body through sports. Because of the brains, drive, muscle, polish, and teamwork perfected by the former Gaels, the Gael of today is able to work and to develop his character so that, through his strength and refined person, he may fully glorify the Master of all sports. It is this ideal which will produce the CHAMPIONS of the present and the future of Gorman High School."

GAELS, MINERS CLASH

THIS YEAR'S SENIOR FOOTBALL PLAYERS — will be playing their last football game for the Orange and Blue. These are the boys who will be taking the field for the last time Friday night.

ANNUAL HOMECOMING TILT FEATURES RIVAL POWERS

This year's annual Homecoming game will mark a first in parochial athletics in the state of Nevada. For the first time since their foundation the two and only Catholic high schools in this state will engage in athletic competition.

The meeting of Gorman and Manogue might well be the birth of a new tradition for both of these Catholic institutions. This meeting might set the precedent which could carry over into the other athletic activities and perhaps eventually into scholastic and social activities in future years. For Gorman, this game marks the third time that the Orange & Blue have faced Catholic teams in Homecoming contests. In 1958 Gorman faced Bishop Amat in a game which Gorman won. Then in 1960, the Gaels faced a tough St. John Vianney team and were beaten. This year's match, if won, will even out the loss suffered at the hands of St. John Vianney and give the Gaels a 3-1 record in the Homecoming games in which they have faced Catholic opponents.

Throughout the current season the Gaels have proved that this year's squad is, perhaps, the finest in Gorman's history. A final victory over our sister school to the north would certainly be a fitting climax to a great season.

Miners Prep For Initial Encounter With Sister School

For the first time in the history of the state of Nevada, the two Catholic schools will meet, when, on November 8, the Gaels of Bishop Gorman High School take on the Miners of Bishop Manogue High School in Gorman's annual Homecoming game.

This year's Manogue football team has had a rather modest season, but this certainly does not rule them out of contention when they take to the field on Friday night to meet the Gaels in what could possibly become the step towards inter-parochia competition in the state of Nevada.

To date, the Miners' record stands at 1 win and 3 losses, but records can sometimes be deceiving. One of the Miners' wins was over Hawthorne, a team considered by many in the Northern League, to be one of the finest gridiron machines in that area.

Manogue lost most of its football players through graduation last year and this year's team consists mostly of juniors and sophomores.

The men who guide the Miners this year are head coach Duke Drakulich and his very able assistant, Ken Munley.

The Miners certainly are not going to be any pushovers and the Gaels should look for a

Homecoming In Review

1963 marks the sixth year for the Gaels of Bishop Gorman High School since the Blue and Orange introduced the gridiron sport in 1957. With every new game in which the school honors the graduated alumni. Naturally, this is the traditional and ever exciting Homecoming game. To both players and fans alike this is perhaps the most important game of the year. This year's game is no exception and the Gorman Gaels have been practicing intensely so that every play will be run to perfection.

In the past five years, Gorman has posted a three and two Homecoming record. Here is the record as it stands to date:

- 1958 Gorman vs. Lincoln Co. 38-6 Won
- 1959 Gorman vs. Bishop Amat 20-12 Won
- 1960 Gorman vs. St. John Vianney 15-6 Lost
- 1961 Gorman vs. Lincoln Co. 33-6 Won
- 1962 Gorman vs. Boulder City 20-0 Lost

Coach's Team Ready

Before every game the coach and his players work together for the upcoming rally, not only on the field but in the locker room, where they conduct chalk talks. At these chalk talks they may discuss the opposing team's strength and weaknesses in addition to their own plays and strategy. On the field the coach, with his players, works hour after hour preparing for a successful game.

This coming week Coach Ayers, and Slayers, will be working especially hard toward a victory against this year's homecoming rival, Bishop Manogue. They, by previous games, have learned of mistakes, which have now been corrected, and have gained the experience needed to bring home a victory. The few days remaining also will be used to review and polish up our hard hitting defense and our untouchable offense.

We fail to realize the time and sacrifice the boys have put in to make our school one of the big four powers it is today. When the Bishop Gorman Gaels take the field this coming Saturday they will not only show this but prove that they are ready and able to bring home a victory in the annual Homecoming

Mike McDonald, brother of former Gorman graduate, Louisa McDonald, and a member of this year's freshman class, recently captured first and second place titles in the Nevada Regional Jr. High School Meets held at the J. C. Fremont and J. D. Smith schools.

Mike garnered first place ribbons in the 200 yard freestyle and the 200 yard breaststroke competition and grabbed off second place awards in the some two events, to lead all the competitors and gain state-wide recognition for his aquatic talents.

A little bit of Paris comes to Gorman on November 30 with the upcoming Girl's Reverse, "Chez Paree," sponsored by the Precisionaires. Tickets are now on sale at $3.00 per couple.

Paris night life will be presented in a novel manner, creating all the romantic and scintillating atmosphere of gay Paree. "Parisians" will dine in a typical sidewalk cafe set against a background of familiar Paris sights. News columns, flower carts, and tree-lined avenues are all situated against such monuments as the Eiffel Tower and the Arc de Triomphe.

An added project of the Precisionaires this year is a raffle to be held during the dance. The prize will be a matching set of Samsonite luggage for either boy or girl. Raffle tickets may be purchased for 25c each from any member of the Precisionaires.

All proceeds of the dance will be used to purchase new uniforms for the Precisionaires.

Junior Varsity Posts Impressive Record

Gorman has never been known for its tremendous JV football squads. This year the junior varsity has fought hard to attain one of the most successful seasons in a long time.

Their first encounter was with Vegas, which our JV's won 13-0 when Mike Courtney ran five yards to paydirt and Ron Mayberry hit Rich Baez for a pass for the extra point. Later in the game, Mayberry fought his way two yards for the second TD of the game, putting the icing on the first victory of the season.

In the second game, the JV's romped over a hapless Basic team for a 28-0 win. Courtney started the scoring by running 15 yards for a touchdown and followed up with a successful extra point, making the score 7-0. Tom Liddil added 7 more points by hustling 18 yards and plunging for the successful extra point, raising the total to 14-0. Then Courtney caught a pass from Mayberry and set up his own touchdown, which he made by lugging the pigskin 20 yards. Dennis Borla added the extra point and the Gaels went ahead 21-0. The final tally came on a 7 yard run by Jim Stupar.

The Gael JV's played three additional games and played them very well. The final stats indicate that this year's junior varsity posted the best record in Gorman's history.

HARD WORK and many long hours have made Mike Potter's 1934 Plymouth one of the finest Custom cars in Las Vegas. This fine piece of machinery shows the end result of Mike's mechanical ingenuity.

POTTER'S PRIDE: 1934 PLYMOUTH

The featured car in this issue of the Lance is a 1934 Plymouth owned by Mike Potter. The car is powered by a 1957 Fury engine with a 318 cubic inch displacement. Modifications in the engine include polished and ported special made heads, oversized intake and exhaust valves and solid lifters.

At the present time the car is undergoing a process commonly known as "cherrying out." The car is painted sunburst orange and the interior is of black, tufted naugahyde. It is equipped with a two speed automatic transmission and a two bbl. carburetor. Future plans include two four bbl. carburetors and a three speed synchromesh stick transmission.

Mike's '34 has been run through the quarter mile at the drags in Fremont, Calif., at a respectable elapsed time of 15.42 seconds.

Senior Players Honored

All must agree that our present football team has done exceedingly better than those of the past. Few of us realize that this will be the last game for our Senior football players. We of the Lance staff feel that these Senior football players deserve and have earned the following recognition:
